15,000 Truck Loads, Debris, Mud To Be Removed At Dam

The Way the Sierra Madre Search Team Sees It

DRAWING SUBMITTED by member of the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team, depicting the "way they see the situation" after experiences of the past couple of weeks between themselves, the Sheriff's teams and the Altadena Search and Rescue Team. Mayor Rule states "These situations must be resolved, and soon." Everyone agrees.

Foundation of Dependability and Service

Royal Drugs Celebrates 30 Years In Sierra Madre

With hammer, nails, boards, paint brush, paint and an eye for the future, Sam and Annette Perloff, accumulated all of their life savings, and pledged themselves deep in debt to give Sierra Madre and the people of this area a drug store that was modern and finest of the area. This was conceived and started in the late fall of 1938.

Sam, working hard in the store building, and wife Annette giving her best to the teaching profession, vowed that service and dependability would be the foundation of this new store. Sam labored away at the task, building the shelving and the counters with his own imagination. Delays and problems were not uncommon, but on March 10-11, 1939 saw the grand opening of their new store at 17 Kersting Court. The new store's interior was bright and cheerful with the woodwork and walls painted a warm cream, the color scheme being carried out throughout the store, which was a complete drug store with a new prescription department.

The war years followed the opening of this new business, and these were tense and trying years for a new businessman, but since the foundation of Service and Dependability was well laid, these two business people, literally pulled themselves up by the bootstraps, until today they have one of the finest drug stores and prescription departments that can be found in Southern California.

In discussing the 30 years of business in Sierra Madre,

Fire Calls No. 8 - 9 - 10

The Sierra Madre Volunteer Firefighters were called into action Wednesday afternoon at the hour of 1:56 to 224 Santa Anita Court. Engine 424 arrived in 2 minutes 38 seconds to find the upper story of the house in complete smoke and the first floor half full.

Breaking open the house it was discovered that a stuffed couch in the upper story was afire and smoking, filling all rooms with smoke. Ten regular Firefighters and one Reserve answered the call, and tossed parts of the over-stuffed couch out of the window and carried the balance out doors.

Two smoke ejectors were used, as well as two booster lines from the engine. Over 500 gallons of water was used with the pumper in action 30 minutes.

The call was received over the police telephone and upon investigation it was determined by Fire Prevention that the fire was set with matches, probably by children playing in the house.

Fire Chief Charles Brown estimated the damage at $200 and released the men and equipment at 2:46. Engine 423 was on standby at Santa Anita Court and Mountain Trail and Truck 421 and car 426 answered the call.

Work To Start March 12; A Truck Every 2½ Minutes

Rules To Be Laid Down For Traffic Control For Six Months Period

Due to the heavy rains which fell in Sierra Madre between January 18 and January 26, approximately 24.01 inches, all available space behind the little Santa Anita Dam at the head of Woodland Avenue was filled with mud, rocks and debris.

Investigation by the Los Angeles Flood Control District showed that approximately 135,000 cubic yards had accumulated, and must be removed as soon as possible, as serious damage could result to the homes below the dam from heavy overflow of further mud and debris, should we have additional heavy rains in the near future.

This past week the Los Angeles County Flood Control District called for bids, on a five day call, to clean debris, mud and rocks from behind the dam and Carter Debris Basin. The bid called for the removal of 119,000 cubic yards at the dam and 1,000 cubic yards from the Carter basin.

Bids were let and work will begin on or about March 12 and will require 15,000 8-cubic yard truckloads and about six months to complete.

It has been estimated by engineers that this will take a truck every 2½ minutes 8 hours a day, out of the canyon to complete the removal of the residue that was placed there in about nine days.

The material removed from the dams will be hauled to the Santa Anita Wash just north of Foothill Boulevard, in Arcadia. — Please turn to Page 3

SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING

Having received notice that a petition was being circulated to nullify Resolution 69-9, or place on the ballot for a regular or special election, Mayor Rule immediately called a Special Session of the City Council for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The call stated: "For the purpose of a personnel session and report on the Community Building Bids."

Resolution 69-9 is the Resolution calling for bids for the construction of the Recreation Center in Sierra Vista Park.

Since the entire meeting was expected to be "Personnel" this newspaper was not represented, feeling that there would be nothing available for this issue. A full report on available information will be given in the next issue.

Authentic Olde English Style

Sierra Madreans In Eatery Business -- 'Fish and Chips'

What makes plain fish and chips "authentic olde English Style" is the sprinkling of imported malt vinegar on it prior to serving. This is just the way that "Her Royal Majesty's Authentic Olde English Style Fish and Chips" in Arcadia at 221 East Foothill serves their fish and chips. (For your information this is fried fish and French fries).

If you prefer, you may have tartar sauce (and that other American dish, coleslaw), but if you have never tried the dish with malt vinegar, do . . . it is delicious. Another feature in the cooking and preparing of the food is that the establishment uses peanut oil as they believe that this makes the difference in taste and flavor, in addition to being better for you, health-wise. Before placing in the deep fat fryer vat, the fish — which is Icelandic Cod from Iceland — is dipped in a batter made on the premises from an English recipe.

Owners, Dick and Jane Wilson opened their shop on Friday, the 13th of December. While not superstitious, had they realized the date, they probably would have opened a day earlier or later — just to be on the safe side. However, all has gone extremely well for the couple. In the beginning, most of their customers were people who had originally come from Canada, England or Scotland where the national status of "Fish and Chips" is parallel to our country's hotdogs and hamburgers. Now, by word of mouth, people who have never tried fish and chips are coming to sample and are becoming converted.

The Wilsons have lived in Sierra Madre since 1963. Mr. Wilson can claim a few more years to that as he has lived here off and on since 1917, when he was a small lad. His father, C. C. Wilson, was the minister of the Congregational Church when it was located in the building that is now the Church of the Nazarene. (This is located across the street from the present Congregational Church on Sierra Madre Boulevard.)

Their daughter, Dottie lived here until her marriage in 1965. Both she and her husband Paul help out by working at the shop a good deal of the time. Other help is in the form of co-manager, Jack White, whose previous business experience in this line has been of great value.

Left overs are taken home to Dottie's two cats and one dog. She says that she and Paul have never been more popular with their animals. One of the cats seems to prefer chicken . . . hmm . . . from . . . Colonel Sander's . . . just not a fish lover! Paul never really liked fish either, but found it necessary to eat some for lunch a year or two ago and lo, and behold, he really likes it after all! — Please turn to Page 3

Hasset Company Low Bidders

Bids opened for the Recreation Center at 2 p.m. Tuesday showed that that Robt. J. Hasset Construction Company of 182 Anita Crest, Arcadia was the low bidder at a price of $160,312. Completion date set by the company was 210 days.

Firefighters Name 1969 Officers

At their annual election of officers, held at the Fire Hall, Friday evening February 14, the regular firefighters, nominated and elected Charles Brown as their Chief for the next year. At the same time they nominated and elected Don Burleson as their secretary and Joseph Grippi as their treasurer.

Taking office for his eleventh year Chief Brown stated: "I will look over my compliment of men and will make my selection of officers for the coming year."

Chief Brown must select a First Assistant Chief, Second Assistant Chief and three Captains to bring his staff up to full strength.

At the present time the department has 24 Regular Firefighters and approximately 10 reserves and can increase its strength to 30 regular men and as many reserves as they deem necessary. Chief Brown is expected to make his appointments at the regular meeting of March 14.

Rose Theme For 1970 Now Open

People everywhere who have enjoyed the beauty of the New Year's Day floral parade have been invited by President C. Lewis Edwards to submit suggestions for the theme of the 81st Annual Tournament of Roses in Pasadena, on January 1, 1970.

The ideas should be sent in on a post card — not letters — along with the sender's name to: Pasadena Tournament of Roses Association, 391 South Orange Grove Blvd., Pasadena, Calif. 91105. A person may send in as many suggestions as he wishes as long as each is on a separate post card.

The search for the theme will continue until March 15. All cards postmarked on or before midnight of that date will be considered in the judging. Every suggestion will be carefully considered by the judging committee with the announcement of the 1970 parade motif being made by President Edwards about April 1.

With regard to the contest, the Tournament head stated, "The Rose Parade in its 81st year will not only usher in the New Year, but will also herald the beginning of the decade of the 70s. It is bound to be a dynamic era during which new frontiers are being — Please turn to Page 13

S.A.M. TO MEET WEDNESDAY

Silent Known Majority, to be known hereafter as just S.A.M. will hold an important meeting on Wednesday evening, February 19 which should be attended by all Sierra Madreans.

This meeting will have as its speaker Steve Salas, the one man that Sierra Madre could trust on the Pasadena Unified School Board, and who now has refused to run for another term and be subjected to deceiving the people.

The topic of Steve's talk will be "Where Do We Go From Here?" and it should have a lot of good meat.

S.A.M. has taken the proposed bond issue and tax rate and shows where a $40,000 market value home will have to pay $234 additional school tax, and they say "It is possible that the bond planners purposely ex-

Petitions To Stop Recreation Center

Circulators Desire People To Have Choice of Expenditure By Voice Through the Ballot Box $15,000 Already Expended Will Be Lost; Election Must Be Held In April

Information was received this week and verified, that petitions are now being circulated in Sierra Madre to stop the building of the Community Recreation Center in Sierra Vista Park, planned by the City Council at a cost of $165,000. Moneys to be taken from the contingency fund of the city.

Approximately 700 registered voter signatures are required to create a referendum that will definitely require the City Fathers to place the proposition on the ballot no later than the next General Election of the City, which would be April 8, 1970; however, the City will call a special election immediately within the election codes of the State of California, probably April 29, 1969.

Since bids are called, and

First Construction In 30 Years

All New Mountain Trail Now Under Construction

Nature lovers and hikers will be interested to know that for the first time in well over thirty years a new trail is being built in the mountains north of Sierra Madre.

This trail will connect Sierra Madre's Historical Wilderness Park and Bailey Canyon Park and will also pass through Angeles National Forest land. The Forestry Service and the young men from two organizations "The Mountaineers" and "The Rangers" under the supervision of the "Search and Rescue Team," with Ray Anderson as advisor, are now at work on the trail.

The Sierra Madre Historical Society has been instrumental in instigating the building of the trail which will pass over Jones Peak, the high point directly north of Baldwin Ave, and the Society will place a marker on the peak in memory of

Legion Auxiliary Receives Prexy's Official Visitation

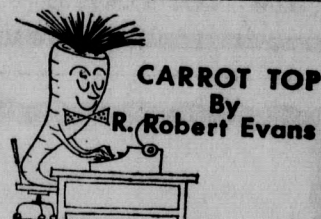

Mrs. Wilma Scharwark, president of the Eighteenth District American Legion Auxiliary made her official visit to Sierra Madre, Unit No. 297 on Thursday, February 13. Mrs. Scharwark is a member of the Alhambra Unit No. 139. She was accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Curtis, vice president of West Covina, Unit No. 790; Miss Winifred Frater, second vice president of Pomona, Unit No. 30, and Miss Marlynn Cornaglia, secretary of El Sereno, Unit No. 436.

Unit President, Bertha Billings presided at the meeting which was held at the pick up after activity at night. That Senior Citizens would have too far to walk to take advantage of the new building, and that it is felt that the city needs a new fire station much more than the need of a Recreation Center. Some petitioners state, that should the proposition pass on the ballot they would want the Recreation Center built on the present City Hall site, providing the bond issue for the site was approved.

Further it is the petitioners intent that the people — Please turn to Page 7

I guess that I have known for a long time that Sierra Madre is not the only community in the world that takes their local politics very seriously. Of course, I understood it more plainly this past week when Donald L. Melvin of Pasadena brought in the following article:

— CT —
Seems that the local newspaper, in an eastern city, had a column headed "Local Improvements," in the column it noted the various completed projects of the city. So here goes the story, and take note all City Employees . . .

— CT —
Roared the politician to the editor of the hometown newspaper: "What do you mean by publicly insulting me in your old rag of a paper. I will not stand for it! and I DEMAND an immediate apology, or I will sue!"

— CT —
"Now just wait a cotton pickin' minute," answered the editor. "Didn't the news item appear in the newspaper exactly as you gave it to me . . . that you had resigned as city treasurer?"

— CT —
"It certainly did," stated the politician, "but where did you put it? . . . in the column under the heading 'Public Improvements'! . . . and that's the way editors see things some times . . . Thank you Mr. Melvin, it certainly was a chuckle."

— CT —
Just to show you how things are all fouled up in the world, and as to how they are going to be more fouled up as we go forward is related in the following true story. I happened to see the invoices and the statements that backs up the story which goes something like this . . .

— CT —
A large department store in Los Angeles notified all of its customers that on the first of July the entire store's charge account system was going to be put on a computer-calculated billing basis. Not having any recent charges with the company the local area citizen stated that he was not too concerned, however . . .

— CT —
On July first he received a computer-calculated bill from this department store for $900.00 amount due. The citizen remarked to his wife, that he thought it was silly for the store to spend the postage to notify him that he did not owe them anything, but sometimes that is the way life is, so he filed the bill among his paid accounts.

— CT —
Come the first of August and he received a past-due notice for the same $900.00 balance due. Again he thought very little of the bill, except the expense of postage and he again filed it among his papers.

— CT —
On September 1, he received a very "cruel" and demanding card notice from the computer . . . that unless the balance of $900.00 was paid in ten days it would be necessary to turn the billing over to their attorney for suit in small claims court.

— CT —
The citizen, a little irate, but determined to settle the matter once and for all, sat — Please turn to Page 11

Boy, taking a trip these days is like playing Russian roulette or musical chairs, or who has the lucky number? You might start out for New York or thereabouts but if you happen to catch the golden ring you end up in Cuba.

Now frankly I wouldn't mind being hijacked so much if I was sure that it would mean a little jaunt to the Orient or to Europe — but Cuba?

It's getting so you have to give second thoughts if you want to go to the east and be there on time, although it might do something to stimulate riding rains again. I always did think that was a kind of a nice way to travel — kind of slow and comfortable with the "ta-puta-ta-puta-ta-puta" of the wheels as they raced along the tracks; the dining car with a delightful choice of menu, service unexcelled. But best of all to see our country unfolding before your eyes as you travel thru country and town with a steady push toward your goal. Oh it is a nice way to travel and it's for darned sure that the train is going just where those racks were laid and not whisking off to some foreign land.

Guess I'll give up going to Cuba for Lent!

The Chuck Klingermans had a grand golfing vacation last week with the Byron Cavaney, the Don Watsons, and the Jim Cains. They all met down at the Singing Hills Country Club in El Cajon on Friday morning in time for a noon teatime. It is a delightful club with more than one course to suit the most enthusiastic players. They had kind of a mixed doubles tournament on Sunday with small cups for the winners.

Upon their return home they learned that their son, Mark, who had been skiing, had broken his leg in an accident on Thursday afternoon. He had driven up to the resort with friends and with their help he managed

Susan Van Zandt Becomes Bride Of Gary Ewnig In February 7 Rites*MRS. GARY CHRISTOPHER EWING

... Nee Susan Lee Van Zandt

A reception for 150 guests at the home of the bride's parents followed the February 7 wedding, at the Trinity Lutheran Church in Pasadena, of Susan Lee Van Zandt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon R. Van Zandt of 645 Sierra Meadow Drive, to Mr. Gary Christopher Ewing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Ewing of Monrovia. The Rev. Kenneth Senti performed the ceremony.

For her marriage, Miss Van Zandt chose an empire styled gown that was designed with a detachable chapel length train. The creation was of white satin with re-embroidered Alencon lace encrusted with seed pearls. Similar seed pearls were also sewn on the large flat satin bow that secured her bridal illusion veil. Phalaenopsis and stephanotis made up the diamond shaped bridal bouquet.

Matron of honor for her sister's wedding was Mrs. Richard Amos and bridesmaids were Lorraine Armstrong, Helen Poll, and Sandra Ives. They all wore empire style, floor length gowns of ruby velvet with Venise Lace. A floating back panel, from waist to hemline, gave back interest to the dresses. Hairpieces were ruby velvet bows and each girl carried a single, large, long stemmed pink Glamellia.

Attending the bridegroom were Douglas Ewing, who acted as his brother's best man and seating the guests were ushers Roger Stranberg, Michael Ignatz and Bruce Redmon.

The flower girl was Lori Amos, the bride's niece, who wore a short ruby velvet dress and carried a single large Glamellia. Ring bearer was the groom's nephew, Steven Ewing.

The new Mrs. Ewing is a graduate of Pasadena High School and is presently attending Pasadena City College where she will graduate this coming June. Mr. Ewing, who served two years in the U.S. Navy, attended Monrovia High

Pacific Ackworth Friends School

Pacific Ackworth Friends School of Temple City is in the process of implementing an exciting "Study of and With American Indians," utilizing a $1,000 grant from the Clark Foundation. The study was initiated because of a concern about the generally stereotyped and unrealistic picture of the American Indian being presented to young people in our culture.

Involved in the program is Mrs. Joseph (Gail) Stephenson, Sierra Madre weaver and Pacific Ackworth parent. She is working with the children using a variety of primitive looms and materials such as wool, feathers and grasses. Experimentation has taken place with math books, rulers, pens and pencils — these experiments being of a temporary nature — weavings being disassembled as equipment is needed.

Royal Drugs Celebrates 30 Years

heads high, and know that they have made a tremendous success in the venture that was started 30 years ago.

Sam and Annette are great believers in public relations, one of their greatest deeds, is the sending of a little "sunshine of flowers" to you or yours when you are in the hospital, just to let you know that they are thinking of you and wishing for your recovery.

Besides the modern drug store, filled to capacity with those things that are required of a store of this caliber, the Royal Drug Store maintains a top notch prescription department which is second to none.

Although the store is only open from nine in the morning to nine in the evening, a 24-hour emergency service is maintained seven days a week, where if you or your loved ones are stricken during these hours, relief can be rushed to you at the quickest possible moment.

People of the area were quick to realize the dependable service this new institution offered them, and it was just 16 years later, October, 1955, that the Perloffs found that their little store on Kersting Square would have to be enlarged, and suitable ground was purchased at 82 Sierra Madre Blvd. and a new, larger and more modern store was erected, where today thousands know that the foundation laid on the first venture is stronger today than it was 30 years ago.

Congratulations are tendered to Sam and Annette, and to the sales staff that is the backbone of the organization. Here you are greeted with the friendliness of top priority, though you are there only to buy a pencil or to complete the restocking of all drugs in your household. This is certainly a success story that we are privileged to tell... thanks, Sam and Annette for giving us this mighty fine business to patronize.

First Western Bank would like to lend you enough money to add on to your home.

$3,000 could do plenty. And with eight years to repay, and payments as low as $47 a month, you can probably afford it.

You wouldn't exactly be throwing your money away, either. Because adding on to your house makes it worth that much more when you sell it.

There's no red tape, no escrow fees, or that sort of thing. We treat it as a simple business deal, like a car loan.

If you really feel ambitious we can lend you any amount up to $7500 for home improvement. If the loan is over $2000, all we charge is $6 per $100 per year.

Community Hospital Auxiliary Plans Luncheon and Bridge For Feb. 25

The lovely home of Mrs. Charles Wailes, 500 N. Michillinda Ave., will be the setting for the Sierra Madre Community Hospital Auxiliary's luncheon and bridge party to be held on Wednesday, February 25.

The "Grand Slammers" bridge group have met twice each month for the past three years and have contributed a substantial amount for improvements at the hospital, including new bed rails for the patients' beds and new chairs for the patients' rooms. Mrs. Arthur Maricq is chairman of this group.

Mrs. Russell Delahooke, president, and Mrs. Walter Nollac, ways and means chairman, represented the auxiliary at the California Hospital Association Convention recently held at the Holiday Inn Riviera in Palm Springs. The delegates reported that the meeting was a rewarding experience. 1150 volunteers from all over the state attended the convention in spite of bad weather.

On January 17, Mrs. Otto Anderson, vice president and membership chairman, was hostess at a breakfast coffee for new members at the Hermosa House. Seven new members were welcomed, bringing the Auxiliary membership to just a little under 100.

The Auxiliary's Charity Day at the Races in January was well attended in spite of so many being ill with the flu. One of the members was very lucky winning the Daily Double of $242.

The Auxiliary was organized in 1961. The Candy Strippers were organized in 1963. Combined volunteer hours for both in service and out service now total over 22,000. It is impossible to count the hours served that are never reported. The purpose of the group is to promote and advance the welfare of the hospital, a non-profit organization, by helping the hospital provide more and better patient care. The Auxiliary became organized after the Sierra Madre Hospital was converted from a private hospital to a community hospital. With the aid of the volunteers the load was taken off the nursing staff. The volunteers help with patient care, telephoning, letter writing, receptionist work and gift cart. Besides this, they have, through fund raising events, contributed toward hospital improvements.

Natural Bridges National Monument in southeastern Utah is reported to have three massive natural bridges carved out of stone.

Lecture Set At Descanso Gardens

Mrs. Dorothy Pool, former supervisor of the McCurdy Nature Center, will tell how Indians and early settlers made use of California native plants in their daily lives in an illustrated lecture this Wednesday evening, February 19, at 8 p.m. in the Hospitality House of Descanso Gardens, 1418 Descanso Drive, La Canada.

Her lecture is the fourth in a series of six free lectures on native plants sponsored by the Theodore Payne Foundation for Wild Flowers and Native Plants, Inc.

Among the plants Mrs. Pool will discuss is chia, a small, sage-like herb that was an important food plant and which can still be found in some areas of the San Gabriel foothills. The fruit, consisting of nutlets, was ground into a kind of meal and then eaten. Besides food, plants were used for medicine, clothing, utensils, decorations and housing.

CRIB CROP

Quite a Valentine, a 1-though a day early, for 8
year old Kimberly Cashion
... her parents, David and Grace Cashion of 680 Edge-view Drive, presented her with a baby brother on February 13 at the Methodist Hospital in Arcadia. The 7 pound 9 ounce boy was named Stephen Matthew
month of February only adds to the already busy month in relation to "dateto-remember." Grace's birthday is February 2 and both of her parents — and Stephen's maternal grandparents — Mr. and Mrs.

Matthew Gemmill of Newport Beach have birthdays
during the month too. Paternal grandparents are Mr.
and Mrs. Lawrence Cashion of Glendale.

If you remember, Helen Peterson, Toyarian, is on a 54-day ocean cruise through the Panama Canal and around the coast of South America starting down the west coast first and then back to New York. On February 5, the ship had already been through the Canal and was about to cross the Equator with all the traditional "silly" ceremony. First stop after that was to be Callao, Peru, where a stay in port of a few days must have been terribly fascinating and interesting. Doesn't that sound

Fire Calls 8 - 9 and 10

Orville Plumlee of Huntington Beach and was lived in by Clarie Halvey. This was fire call number 8 for the year.

Again, in a downpour of rain, the Volunteers received a call at 4:16 Saturday afternoon to the home of Max Isoard at 420 North Sunnyside.

Engine 423 arrived in three minutes and ten seconds to find that what was thought to be a fire was steam coming from an electrical dryer. Although a line was laid, no equipment was used.

Nineteen regular firefighters and one reserve answered the call and were released by Fire Chief Brown at 4:28 to return to the station and wipe down the engines for the next call. No damage resulted from the call. Engine 424 made the run on standby as did truck 421 and 422.

Again at 11:11 p.m. Sunday the alarm sounded for 647 Brookside Lane to the home of Richard Paul Puge, a house owned by Mrs. Perkins.

Engine 424 arrived at the scene in 4 minutes and ten seconds after the sounding of the alarm to find that grease from an overheated broiler in the stove had set the fire.

Twenty regular Firefighters and one Reserve answered the call, with Engine 423 as standby at the corner of Mt. Trail and Sturtevant. Truck 421 and 422
also answered the alarm.

Chief Charles Brown released the men and equipment at 11:50 to return to the station to secure for the next alarm. Damage was limited to under $25 by Fire Chief Brown.

Letters to Editor . . . .

Dear Editor:
Having just finished figuring my income tax returns late one evening, I felt quite proud of myself. After all, it was my patriotic duty to pay taxes to help keep America strong. I felt proud too because I had done my return before the deadline and good old Uncle Sam wouldn't have to wait on me.

Just before going to bed, I turned on the late news. It went something like this: "Washington, D.C.: Plans are being formalized for new attempts to build bridges to Communist-controlled countries. Vietnam: Almost two hundred Americans were killed in Vietnam as Communist Viet Cong step up action. Los Angeles: College students plan massive strike. San Francisco: College students participate in massive demonstrations (or was it small-scale riots?). Washington, D.C.: President plans further federal aid to education. Atlanta: Reverend Abernathy looks with favor upon President's plan to rebuild riot-destroyed areas. Washington, D.C.: Senate finds further proof that OEO funds are being used by rioters. New York: The tax-free Rockefeller Foundation is issued the results of a recent study, calling for increased government funding of anti-poverty programs.

Somehow, after the news I didn't feel quite so patriotic. It was almost as though I personally was supporting a revolution in the United States through payment of my taxes. The fact is, I am. And so are you; and it is not going to stop until we return to the Constitution as it was originally written by our Founding Fathers. A first step in that direction would be to repeal the income tax, which can best be done by supporting the Liberty Amendment.

From the FIRE SIDE By One of the Boys

Well, the retirement dinner for Bobby Clark will sure give the firemen something to talk about for a long time. John Buchanan put on a festival, not just a dinner. He barbecued a 100 pound chunk of beef that had your taste buds tingling before you even sat down to eat.

The decorating committee did a bang up job with a patriotic theme and the refreshments were super-fulous, and of the highest quality. Everything was going along fine until the guests at the head table sat down and found they had gold fish in their drinking glasses.

The thing that's got us wondering now is, with another retirement dinner due for Assistant Chief Ed Decker and probably chairmaned by Ron Jorgensen, how in the heck can they possibly compete with the one John Buchanan just completed. It will be a tough act to follow.

Talking about tough acts to follow, the two fire calls on Saturday sure were somethin' else again.

The first one the dispatcher gave a Pasadena address (Michillinda and Shadowgrove, and it turned out to be an overheated car on the Sierra Madre side of Michillinda. The second call started out with a Sierra Madre address and actually by the time it was all over was found to be in either Arcadia or county, unincorporated area but in Arcadia answering area.

Come to think of it Buchanan sure had a busy day he took care of one barbecued steer and one barbecued car, and that too is a hard act to follow.

Friday night was officer recommendation night and I picked a sure winner. I selected Charlie (the Santa

You and Your Neighbor

by NANCY BRYAN

Almost a Valentine birthday last week for Mrs. Gullett (of Gullett and Harris fame) who's birth anniversary is February 13. Belated happy birthday greetings to you, and many, many more.

George Snyder, of The Antique Shop, has a way with animals. He is one of those rare persons that all animals trust and like instinctively and the feeling apparently is mutual. His latest pet is a small black cat caller "Cepina" whom he has taught to retrieve. George will roll up some paper into a small ball and throw it across the room. Cepina will jump right after it, bring it back in her mouth, drop it in George's waiting hand and wait expectantly for him to throw it again. Purchased from a pet shop in Arcadia for the small sum (if you're a cat lover) of $2, George would not part with the cat for $200. Originally, the kitty's name was "Sepia" in keeping with the reddish, brown-black color of her fur. But somehow, the name kept coming out differently each time and finally became "Cepina." Eager to please her master, and quick to learn, Cepina has almost learned to sit up upon command. . . . George says if she barks, then he's gonna start worrying. (We'll have to keep track of this training program and see what develops!)

Take your problems to CHURCH this week -- millions leave them there!

THE BOSS

"The boss!" Jim said and laughed to see Jimmy dwarfed by his chair.

And I began to wonder. When our son is ready to occupy that chair, what kind of a man will he be? Will he have integrity and a sense of responsibility for his employees? Or will he cut corners, use the people he works for—who work for him?

So much depends on us. Right now, he learns of love and kindness from our voices, our hands. As he matures, our values, respect for others and concern will help to shape his attitudes.

How glad I am that our Church offers a program of Christian education for Jim and me, as well as for Jimmy. As our son grows, so will we.

The strength you need to meet the responsibilities of your life can be found in your church.

Petition To Stop

of the City of Sierra Madre should be given an opportunity to voice their opinions through the ballot box.

At the present time the City of Sierra Madre has spent a total of approximately $12,000 for architectural fees, which drawings will be useless for any other location. Further they have spent several hundred dollars for a "master plan" of landscaping for the park at an estimated cost of $181,000, and over $2,000 for staff administration and advertising. Should the plan be halted at this point the cost of building will be expected to increase approximately an additional $20,000, and if moved to another location all architect fees and administrative costs will be lost.

If the petitions are presented on February 25 and found by count to be sufficient, the City Attorney will then rule on their legality, if legal, then they must be processed to find if the signers were qualified voters. The City Council would probably not have the reports back before their meeting of March 11, but must set a special election by April 29.

This stoppage would result, if not legal, delaying the building so that it could not possibly be completed for this summer's activities.

About 40 petitions are now in circulation and the News, believing that all persons should have a free choice in any matters pertaining to their welfare or pleasure, will have a petition available for those desiring to inspect some, and sign if they desire.

all of the details of getting to the hospital and getting the bone set. The trip home was a little harrowing inasmuch as he is well over six weeks tall, six four to be exact, and is in a full leg cast which isn't the most convenient thing to haul around.

In addition in order to get home he had to take two flights and transfer mid-stream. He rode on the baggage cart in and out of the airport to the planes. He got a lot of help. Guess no one wanted to pick him up with that big cast on his leg. He's a real good sport, however, he has gone back to S.C. to resume his studies in order that he may graduate from Architectural School in June.

Sheryl Fleming is taking a quarter leave from University of Calif. at Santa Barbara in order to recover from a painful nerve injury incurred before the Christmas holidays when she was thrown from a horse. She expects to resume her studies in the third quarter which begins in March.

If you recall two weeks ago I was trying to find a silver lining for the Bill Himmengers of Pasadena Glen. As I told you they lost their home and all of their furnishings, but the saddest blow of all was the loss of their two cats.

Bill was up in the Glen the other day stirring around among the ruins trying to find something to salvage and he happened to glance up in the eaves of the house and lo and behold there was the youngest of the two cats, "Punkin," lookin' down on him. They figured that the cat had been in the shell of the house for the entire two weeks and was still terrified by the ordeal. Maybe you don't think that was a happy reunion for both of them, you can bet your life it was.

The Villa Guild of Rosemary Cottage with all of its members wishes to thank everyone that helped make their "Homes With a Heart" tour such a smashing success last Friday afternoon and evening. It was a case of a small group all pulling together for a big cause that made everything possible as well as the extreme generosity of the three couples that so graciously opened their homes as well as their hearts for the affair.

Mrs. Kenneth Christianson, the president of the guild wishes to express her gratitude to all of the committees and all of the workers as well as to Mr. and Mrs. P. Melvin Knoll, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, and Mr. and Mrs. George Fry.

The entire proceeds of the function will be turned over to Rosemary Cottage in the very near future to use at their discretion.

Mr. and Mrs. William Baugh followed up their tour of the homes with a dinner party with a group of their friends. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lawyer, and their houseguests from Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Earley, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Norman, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Maupin, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Godber, Mr. and Mrs. John Seymour, Mr. and Mrs. George Otte, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baugh, and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Christianson.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Slavin, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Farmer, and Mr. and Mrs. Alan R. Stearns were co-hosts last Saturday night at a cocktail party before the Annual Gardenia Ball held at the Huntington Sheraton Hotel by the Assistants League.

Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Brewster Benedict, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Christianson, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bowman, and Mr. James Chadwick.

Assisting Mrs. Howell as co-hostesses, will be Mrs. Daniel Curtis, Mrs. Robert Fey, and Provisional members Mrs. Lewis Shackett and Mrs. John Fricke.

How much does it cost to run your TV set?

Less than 1¢ an hour—morning noon or night. Any size TV.

Quite a bargain, isn't it?

In fact, electricity in Edison areas costs an average family less per kilowatt-hour today than it did 10...20...even 30 years ago. And practically everyone today is using much more electricity—more kilowatt-hours—than ever before.

Take washing dishes. Few people owned electric dishwashers a decade ago. But now you see them everywhere. And you can wash a load for less than 2¢.

Or washing clothes. Remember when this was a hand operation? With an electric washer, you can now run through a load for less than 1½¢.

Or shaving. Electric razor sales are booming. And you can shave all year for less than a dime.

In Edison areas, one of your biggest bargains is electricity.

It does so much for so little.

You can watch TV around the clock and it hardly costs you a thing.

(Except maybe a night's sleep.)

SIERRA MADREANS

AND ALL PEOPLE IN THE AREA

The first store opened to the public at 17 Kersting Court, was in the building now occupied by Rambeau T.V. The store had its grand opening on March 10, 1939; most of the interior was accomplished by Annette and Sam together with their life's savings.

WE ARE NOW CELEBRATING 30 YEARS IN SIERRA MADRE

It is with sincere and strong feelings that we say "Thank You" to the many thousands of Sierra Madreans and the people of the Sierra Madre area, as well as hundreds who have moved on in the past 30 years. It seems only yesterday that we held our Grand Opening on Kersting Court and proudly gave the people of the area a taste of cut rate drugs and a modern first class prescription service.

It seems only hours ago that Annette and I came to the conclusion that our little store at 17 Kersting Court was not large enough to accommodate our hundreds of customers and friends and we decided to move our store to 82 West Sierra Madre Boulevard. It was in October of 1955 the move was made and again in 1968 we modernized to keep up with the buying habits of our many customers.

We pause to give all our thanks to you . . . our customers and friends for your loyal patronage and support over those 30 years; without you our lives would have been meaningless and our joys limited . . . Thanks a million!

ANNETTE and SAM PERLOF

In October, 1955, the store had grown to such magnitude that it was necessary to move to the new location at 82 Sierra Madre Boulevard, where modern convenience was introduced to the public. Last year again, the interior of the store was modernized to keep up with the trend of modern buying.

Sixty Years Ago:

Mrs. Frank Wright gave one of the most novel and charming entertainments of the season when on Tuesday afternoon she as Mother Goose, invited some of her children who had strayed from home to return. They obeyed with cheerful alacrity, each character singing the song appropriate to her own particular costume and Mother Goose rhymes were recited in chorus. The center piece on the table from which refreshments were served, was a huge shoe, filled with candy dolls, which were given as favors. The rooms were handsomely decorated with pink carnations. Mrs. Frank Wright, as hostess was Mother Goose. Mrs. George H. Lettau was the "Queen of Hearts" and she carried a tray of tarts (for a brief time only); Mrs. William Lawless was "Little Bo Peep" with her shepherd's crook; Mrs. George E. Munger, was "Mary, Mary, quite contrary," with her sprinkling can; Mrs. Charles H. Baker was "Little Miss Muffet" pursued by the horrid spider; Mrs. Street was "Queen of Hearts"; little Lorraine Wright and Eleanor Huston were the naughty knaves who stole the tarts and Mrs. Creed and Mrs. L. C. Torrance were judges.

The girls' basketball team of the public school gave a hayride this afternoon. Several school children enjoying the outing. Miss Eleanor Campbell acts as chaperone.

Rev. Father Stuart, a well known Catholic priest of Chicago, is visiting Rev. Father Barth of the local church, and celebrated high mass at the chapel Sunday morning.

Dr. and Mrs. A. O. Zaiser of Burlington, Iowa, are visiting Mr. Zaiser's mother who is spending the winter in Sierra Madre.

The annual meeting of the Sierra Madre Water Co., called for next Thursday evening at the Town Hall, will be called to order according to program, immediately after which the meeting will adjourn to the new Underhill building, just north of Hotel Shirley.

Lieut. C. R. Street has embarked in the real estate business and established his office in the space recently vacated by A. S. Mead in the News office. More competition of the right sort in the real estate business can only aid in building up the town and the advent of Mr. Street in that business seems to be welcomed by the other real estate men. He is a gentleman who can be depended upon and should be successful.

Circle D and Circle DD of the Florence Crittenton Home of Los Angeles are planning an all circle benefit to be held Saturday, February 22, in the infield picnic area at Santa Anita Race Track.

Tom and Millie Solury of Colony Drive have been busy driving back and forth to St. Luke's Hospital to visit Millie's stepfather, John Connaghan, or to take Millie's mother over for visits. Mr. Connaghan fell last January 6 and broke his leg and has been at St. Luke's ever since. Because of the seriousness and type of the break, the injured leg is still in traction and not yet in a cast. It is expected that John will have to stay in the hospital for another month at least. Well, our best wishes for a speedy and complete recovery.

The Circles not only aid in maintaining the 75 year old Florence Crittenton Home, but are participating in the current $350,000 building fund drive for additional facilities to care for double the number of unwed mothers, most of whom are teenagers, regardless of race, creed or inability to pay.

Proposition 1-A Causing Much Disillusionment Now

Many who voted for Proposition 1-A in the November election in the belief they were voting for property tax relief are now shocked at learning what this amendment to the California Constitution actually provides.

Henry C. MacArthur, the well-known Sacramento newspaper columnist whose syndicated column appears throughout the state, recently called Proposition 1-A "one of the most stupendous hoaxes ever dished out by that body (the legislature) to its constituents, who are the taxpayers of the State of California."

MacArthur is undoubtedly expressing the disillusion of a great many who now realize that Proposition 1-A is a detour leading to a dead end, rather than the highway to real property tax relief. But since that's the road we're on, we may as well understand the rules of the road.

Proposition 1-A authorized a $750 exemption from the total assessed value of owner-occupied single family homes, duplexes or condominiums, beginning with the 1969 assessment (to be reflected on the property tax bill you'll receive next November), and a one-year $70 refund for property taxes paid for 1968-69 (the bill you received last November).

However, the homeowners' exemption or refund does not apply to any dwelling which on March 1, 1968, 1969 or in the future, is rented or vacant. It applies only if the owner occupies the dwelling as his principal place of residence. If an owner files for and receives a veteran exemption, he cannot also receive the homeowner exemption on that property.

If an owner receives an allowance for taxes, in whole or in part, from the state or county, he cannot receive the homeowner exemption. This provision, however, does not apply to homeowners who receive a tax rebate under the Senior Citizens' Property Tax Assistance Law.

(As soon as application forms are available, the Assessor's Department will mail them to known owners of single family homes, duplexes and condominiums. Any homeowner who does not receive his application by March 15 should go to the nearest regional Assessor's office or the main office in the Hall of Administration. Applications for both the 1968 refund and the 1969 exemption can only be taken between March 1 and April 15; and, like the veteran exemption, filings must be made every year.)

Taxpayers who file the short form and take the standard deduction on their state income tax may double that deduction. However, those who itemize their deductions get no benefit from this provision of 1-A.

Though not part of the Constitutional provisions of 1-A, household furnishings and personal effects are also exempt from property taxation, beginning this year.

And businesses with taxable inventories will receive a 15 per cent exemption on their inventory assessments.

Even at this early date, Assessors throughout the state are getting questions about apparent inequities in the law. For example, if a duplex qualifies, why not a triplex? If a condominium, why not a co-op or owner-own? Why discriminate against renters who may have sufficient medical expenses to make it worth itemizing deductions on their state income tax? Is it fair to deny a homeowner the $750 exemption if he and his family have to be out of their home on March 1? How can you call it "property tax relief" if taxes continue to increase as much as, or more than, the value of the exemption?

These are questions that cannot be answered by any Assessor. They are questions that should be directed to the legislators who created Proposition 1-A and to the State Board of Equalization which has established the forms and procedures to implement it.

other programs aimed at modernization of the Navy. It is impossible for a naval court of inquiry to call Mr. McNamara to testify on why he let the fleet run down, a policy that is pertinent to Pueblo tragedy. But a congressional investigating committee can call Mr. McNamara and all the other former high administration officials who had a hand in the Pueblo affair or who counseled against retaliation when a U.S. warship was snatched off the high seas. The full story of the Pueblo disaster and all the key figures in it should be revealed for the public. The way to get the facts is for Congress to hold open hearings. That way, the responsibility for all aspects of a dark chapter in American history will be pin-pointed.

The Rev. Richard J. Anderson, of the Sierra Madre Congregational Church, 170 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., will speak this Sunday on "You Can Overcome Fear" at the 11 a.m. worship service.

Rev. Anderson says, in commenting on the sermon, "Fear is like a raging forest fire that burns within the human heart. It blackens and destroys the life and natural resources of the soul. Not only emotional energy is taken away but physical resources are also laid waste and then fatigue takes over."

"We have all known people whose lives have been plundered by the fires of fear. Often they are very kind and gentle people. They only want what is best, but they seem to receive only the worst. The fire of fear is a cruel conqueror."

"How can such people be helped? How does one quench the fires of fear? Here are 12 triumphant words from God that quench the fears of the human heart and bring quietness and healing: 'There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear.' As the cooling, soothing, healing waters of love fill your heart and mind there is victory over the torments of fear. But where is this healing water of love to be found? You will find it in the love of Jesus. His perfect love casts out your fear."

Sunday Topic

During the 10:30 Sunday morning worship hour of Faith Lutheran Church, 845 Hastings Ranch Drive, Pasadena, the Rev. Armin Hesse, pastor, will address the congregation on the topic, "A New Robe and a New Wine Skin," taken from St. Mark 2:18-22. This parable speaks of the foolishness of putting a new patch on an old garment and new wine into an old wine skin.

Meeting at 9:15 the Sunday school classes will hear the story of Abraham and Lot in Canaan. Bible classes for all ages meet simultaneously with babysitting available for children under three years of age.

Continuing a series of seven Lenten dramas, the youth of Faith will present the second Wednesday evening drama at 7:30. This realistic drama, entitled "All Things New," will be followed by a brief pulpit meditation, "Jesus Gave Us New Life."

The gymnasium of Cal State College of Los Angeles will be the site of Sunday afternoon's Lutheran Hour Rally. 6,000 people are expected to hear Dr. Oswald Hoffman, noted speaker for radio broadcasts, deliver a stirring message to attendants. Mass choirs and bands will accompany the singing of the congregation. Events begin promptly at 2. Members of Faith will participate in the choir, band, and the ushering corps.

For February 23

"The Lord God hath given me the tongue of the learned, that I should know how to speak a word in season to him that is weary; he wakeneth morning by morning, he wakeneth mine ear to hear as the learned." This verse is part of the Bible Lesson-Sermon titled "Mind," and will be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

One of the selections to be included from the denominational textbook is the following: "Mind is not necessarily dependent upon educational processes. It possesses of itself all beauty and poetry, and the power of expressing them. Spirit, God, is heard when the senses are silent" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy).

'Can You Believe

"Can You Believe In People?" will be the sermon title given by Margaret M. Stevens, minister of the Santa Anita Church, 226 W. Colorado Blvd., Arcadia at 11 a.m. on February 23. Rev. Stevens has been in New York City in an INTA Conference at which she will be one of the speakers. All are invited to attend and hear music by Mrs. Helen Natzke, organist, and Mr. Mackey Swan, soloist, in an atmosphere of peace and good will. Infant and child care is provided during the service.

TONY's Ted Wierman to be a top draft choice of both the NBA and ABA. This year's crop of top players doesn't go as deep as it will in 1970 when the "M" boys are up for grabs. That would be Calvin Murphy at Niagara, Pete Maravich of LSU and Rick Mount of Purdue.In College

Victor G. Mikity, M.D. of this community will be among the 119 radiologists to be made fellows of the American College of Radiology at the annual meeting of the College in Atlanta February 21. Letters To the Editor . . .

Dear Editor:

I am one of the nominees for vice president of the Foothill Areas Association. I am disturbed by an article I read in the last issue of the Sierra Madre News about the Foothill Homeowners Council.

The FAA is an organization that is dedicated to protecting all Canyon residents, not just a few. All Canyon residents may join the FAA, make their views heard at all meetings, and may vote on all positions taken by the organization. The FAA has always encouraged all residents of the Canyon to join.

Now we have the Foothill Homeowners Council, consisting of only property owners. The FHC states that they feel they were not properly represented by the FAA. I know of only three people who are now FHC members who have bothered to come to FAA meetings to make known their views. I also know of one FHC member who has always claimed that the FAA was not a representative group, and yet refused to join and contribute her viewpoint.

All positions taken by the FAA have been arrived at by open vote of all the members. This majority position is the consensus of all those Canyon residents who care enough about their community to join the only organization that tries to represent all in our area.

I do not feel that only those who own property should have a say in what goes on in our community. In our country, the franchise is not granted to just property owners. I do not feel that a few, selected property owners should presume that they represent the majority viewpoint and actually present to our Mayor a program for the Canyon (a program unknown to most of the Canyon residents) — all without the representation they claim is lacking in the FAA. The ancient Greeks called this hubris.

I feel that the FAA is the proper place for the airing of all viewpoints of all Canyon residents, and the actions of this splinter group can only help those who would destroy the beauty and character of our area. I personally invite all the FHC members to join the FAA. They will have every opportunity to make known their ideas.

I am also concerned by the anonymous cartoon printed on page one of this same issue of the Sierra Madre News. The inference is that hippies have taken over the FAA. Aside from the fact that all residents may join the FAA, including "hippies," all the present officers and all those nominated for office at the last meeting can be described as being hardworking and dedicated to the best interests of the Canyon and the community as a whole. I feel that this cartoon is a scurrilous attack on some good citizens. I hope that the person or group responsible for this attack is not a member of either the FAA or the FHC.

This type of backbiting has no place in our community. I wish to thank the editor for making known to our community the existence of the FHC. This kind of news exposure fills a vital need in Sierra Madre: we need to know who is for what. The FAA is for all the Canyon residents, not just a select few.

— Martin I. Cantor

EDITOR'S NOTE: — The cartoon was distributed throughout the canyon area, to what extent I do not know, but enough that I picked up the two versions. Actually I do not know just what either of them mean for sure. Some say that the Hippies have the FAA in the bag. I have heard others say that the Hippies have received notice from the FAA and have packed their bags and are leaving. The cartoon this week could mean that they want to stay. Who knows. Thanks for your letter, we will endeavor to give equal space to all parties concerned.Legion Auxiliary home of Mrs. Edith Noshier, 265 Mountain Trail.

Mrs. Scharwark spoke to the Unit about the importance of the various programs of the organization. Mrs. Curtis spoke on membership and praised Sierra Madre Unit for being the first in the District to attain their membership goal. Mrs. Ornela Henderson was presented with an Early Bird Citation. Miss Frater, Americanism Chairman for the District spoke about the responsibility of members in setting an example as good Americans.

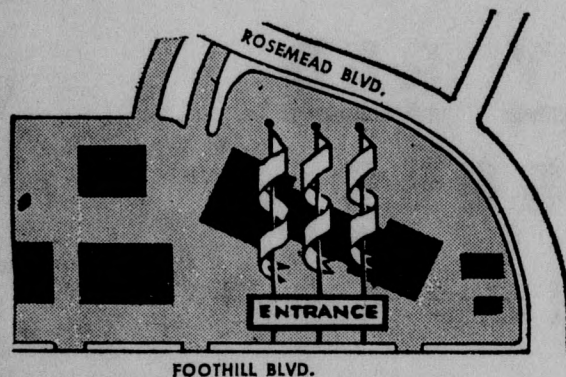

A highlight of the evening was the announcement by Mrs. Henderson that the Unit would sponsor a second girl for the Girl's State program. This girl will be selected from the students at Mount Alverno Academy and will be sponsored with the assistance of the San Marino Post of the American Legion. These two organizations have for several years sponsored a girl from San Marino High School.

Mrs. Edith Noshier, Rehabilitation Chairman displayed an interesting collection of neck pillows, knee robes, feeding bibs and tray covers to be sent to San Fernando Veterans Hospital. Six Unit members attended the dinner on February at El Sereno, honoring Department President, Barbara Carlson of San Francisco. The next meeting will be February 27 at the home of Bertha Billings, at 8 p.m.

Letters To the Editor . . .

Dear Editor:
The following information describes the purpose of the newly formed Foothill Homeowners Council.

Concerned resident homeowners have felt the need to band together to provide mutual assistance and develop goals, and programs to reverse the slum trends surrounding their homes.

The resident homeowners believe that the group should actively support the Police Force in removing the sale and use of narcotics in the City of Sierra Madre.

The group believes that health and safety problems in the area cannot be postponed to some future date. Action is needed now!

The Foothill Homeowners Council recognizes the need of a Foothill Master Plan that will correct the high population density on an antiquated land use. The group offers on site help to the Planning Commission and its sub-committees in developing this plan.

The group endorses a policy of enforcing all existing City Ordinances with special emphasis on Health, Fire Prevention, and Nuisance Sections.

The Foothill Homeowners Council is concerned over the highly over-assessed land evaluation and complete lack of home financing in the area. People leaving the area find it difficult to sell to responsible new owners.

The newly formed resident Foothill Homeowners Council welcomes the help and cooperation of all interested individuals and groups who agree with our sincere desires for the betterment of the residential Foothill Canyon Area.

Interested people may write the Foothill Homeowners Council, Post Office Box 156, Sierra Madre, California 91024.

Rose Theme

found in outer space. Therefore, we hope to come up with a theme that dramatically portrays the start of this exciting era — one that will give tribute to the accomplishments of the past, but will also give a look of optimism to the future.

Themes first became a part of the Tournament scene in 1927 when the overall motif was "Songs." Other themes through the years have been "Festival Days" (1930), "The Twentieth Century" (1940), "Our American Heritage" (1950), and "Tall Tales and True" (1960).

The person submitting the winning idea will be the guest of the Tournament of Roses next New Year's Day for both the Rose Parade and the Rose Bowl Game. If more than one person sent in the idea selected, the one with the earlier post mark will be named the winner of the contest.

The design, construction, and decoration of the 60 floats in the 1970 parade will center around the theme chosen after this month-long search.

Speaker Scheduled By Association

Dr. Armen Sarafian, president of Pasadena City College, will speak to the Pasadena Area Panhellenic Association on "The Direction of Youth Today." Mrs. Gates Baldwin, Kappa Kappa Gamma, will open her home on Thursday, February 27, at 9:30 a.m. for coffee with the meeting following.

President Miss Amy Smith, Alpha Xi Delta, will conduct the business session. Plans are being made for a Continental Breakfast to be held at the San Marino Women's Club on Saturday morning, April 26, for all high school seniors and their mothers. The nine scholarship award winners, which are selected each year by Pasadena Panhellenic, will be honored. Panhellenic questionnaires are available to graduating seniors in the offices of their counselors. These questionnaires provide girls going to Panhellenic schools with an introduction to sororities on the campus of their choice.

Attend the church of your choice every Sunday.

Services Held For Hallie O'Neal On Friday, Feb. 14

Eighty year old Miss Hallie Florence O'Neal passed away February 11 at an Arcadia Convalescent Hospital after a lengthy illness.

Originally from Nebraska, Miss O'Neal had been in California about 45 years. The former secretary for the California Bank had lived in Sierra Madre for many years.

Interment was private, at Forest Lawn Cemetery in Glendale.

Girls Scout Week Is March 9 To March 15

Girl Scouts of the Sierra Madres Council will join scouts throughout the United States celebrating their 57th anniversary during National Girl Scout Week, March 9 through 15.

The Girl Scout slogan, "do a good turn daily" has not changed since the organization was founded in Savannah, Ga., March 12, 1912, by Juliette Gordon Low. "But its image has had to alter with the times," Mrs. Harker, president of Sierra Madres Council said.

"We find ourselves running faster to keep up. And we need to break down more walls to get into areas we haven't always served."

There are more than 3,500,000 Girl Scouts in the USA. In Scouting these girls can explore their world together through work — from tutoring in disadvantaged areas to managing health and recreation programs for children — and through play — anything from abalone fishing to yoga. They make friends, across town and around the world.

Activities for the week will begin on Saturday or Sunday when Girl Scouts will attend church or synagogue in uniform. Many troops will be planning special events for each day of the week which are related to home-making, citizenship, health and safety, international friendship, the arts and the out-of-doors.

This year the annual Girl Scout cookie sale will be in progress during Girl Scout Week. When a girl in green calls at your door, why not wish her a happy birthday?

Anne Archer Takes Lead As Ramona

When the famous Ramona Outdoor Play opens this spring for its 42nd season in the beautiful Ramona Bowl near Hemet, it will have a lovely new Ramona — Miss Anne Archer, 21 year old Pitzer College Senior, and daughter of Majorie Lord and John Archer, well known screen and television personalities.

Miss Archer comes to the play with considerable professional experience to her credit, having appeared last year with Ann Southern in a tour presenting "Glad Tidings," and on the T.V. show "My Three Sons." She has also appeared in "Skin of Our Teeth," as Sabina; in "The Little Foxes" as Regina; and has been in several classical plays.

The new Ramona will appear opposite Frank Sorell, movie, television and light opera performer, who returns for his third season as the ill-fated Alessandro in the beautiful love story adapted from the novel "Ramona," by Helen Hunt Jackson. The play is directed by Maurice Jara, who played the Alessandro role for fifteen seasons, assisted by his wife Hilda, a fifth generation native Californian formerly with the Padua Hills Players.

Dates for this year's show are April 26, 27, May 3, 4, and May 10, 11. All seats are reserved and are usually sold out well in advance of the first performance, so those who would like to see the show are urged to get their orders in early, either by writing to the Ramona Bowl, Box 755, Hemet, Calif. 82343, or by phone 714-658-3111. Prices range from $2.50 to $4.00.

Various Activities Keep Nickoloff Family Busy

With five boys in the family how could a family be other than busy or occupied? The five belong to Councilman James and Virginia Nickoloff of San Gabriel Court. Eldest of the tribe is Jim, who is in his second school quarter at the Stanford Campus in France. With school only scheduled for four days out of the week, this allows for three day weekends giving Jim a real opportunity to travel and see just about all of the country it is possible to see. At the end of the second quarter over there, March 13, Jim will have three weeks before his third quarter starts here in the U.S. It is during those three weeks that Mrs. Nickoloff for sure, and possibly Mr. Nickoloff, will join him for travels that hopefully will be to Italy, Greece and Yugoslavia, where some Nickoloff relatives still reside. Virginia is excitedly and happily making all tentative arrangements and positive reservations.

Second eldest son, John, who attends PCC is one of five young men making up a musical group called "The Class Reunion." Musical instruments are two guitars and an electric organ, plus a singer. With fairly active engagements scheduled, the group has previously been known as "The Fidelity" and have performed at such places as "The Ice House." Under their new moniker of "The Class Reunion" they have just completed a promotional record — to be used for distribution to disc jockies.

Tom, the middle son, attends Wilson Junior High where he was just elected to the Student Cabinet as Chairman of Boys' Activities. The lucky fellow went to Hawaii for three weeks at Christmas to visit his cousin (and aunt and uncle) who make their home in that lovely state. Unluckily, he broke his arm the day before he was to depart, but undaunted, he took a large supply of large plastic bags to cover the cast encrusted arm to insure against . . . shrinkage(?).

Still carrying some seniority in the family, age-wise, is fourth son Jack, a seventh grader at Wilson, who has switched from soccer to baseball and loves it just as much. Lowman on the totem pole is 8 year old Tony, a student at Sierra Mesa, also sports minded. He is still playing soccer and will soon be playing baseball in the little league with plans to play football in the Pop Warner groups this fall.

It was brought to Virginia's attention (real y something she has long been aware of) that with six men around the house, she is somewhat outnumbered. She does have an ally or sorts in the form of the family cat — but no kitty's loyalty is under question, since she recently had a litter of kittens — all male! Sounds like a marvelous family with lots of fun for all!

Camp Fire Candy Sale Again Proves To Be Success Through Community Support

The annual product sale of the Camp Fire Girls was again this year a tremendous success. This, of course, would not have been possible without the fine support of all those who purchased the candy. To all of you from all the Camp Fire Girls, Blue Birds through Horizon Club members, their leaders and adult members, a great big "Thank You."

For those of you who were asked more than once, "Would you like to buy some Camp Fire candy?", your happy smiles and patient attitude were greatly appreciated.

Most of the profits from the sale will go into the general operating budget to support the Council's camping program. A portion of the profits go to each group to be spent as it wishes. To "Give Service" is part of the law of the Camp Fire Girls, and if the need arises, the groups often donate their money to purchase plants or other needed articles for the camps, or use the money for a special group trip.

Two of the groups from the Sierra-Hastings District have planned outings which they otherwise could not have arranged. The Makitanda-Hoda Camp Fire group of sixth grade girls from Don Benito and Sierra Madre schools took advantage of the "Camp Fire Girls Weekend" at Disneyland. They enjoyed the fun and excitement along with their leader, Mrs. Jack D. Kindred, last Sunday, February 16.

The Smiling Blue Birds from Sierra Madre School are planning to visit the Pasadena Playhouse to see "Adventure of Harlequin" this afternoon. This will be a first-time visit for many of these third grade girls under the leadership of Mrs. Walter Wesley. The group includes: Kimber Holt, Janet Pedersen, Lori Stumpf, Michele Taillac, Julie Wesley, Lisa Fay, Doreen Harriman, Jennifer Smith, Debbie Davis, Ellen Sidle and Lisa Hogue.

Abraham Lincoln

When President Lincoln took the oath of office for the second time, in March of 1865, he stood weary and worn from the tragic years of a fratricidal war whose carnage was about at an end. But he knew too well that he stood also at the threshold of a "peace" that would be just as wearying, potentially just as tragic.

It was his burden to create "a new birth of freedom," to unite a shattered people, to dissolve the hatreds and restore the spirit of brotherhood on which the nation he had guided through its worst crisis could once more take up the challenge of its destiny.

John Wilkes Booth was to relieve Lincoln of that burden, and deprive the bleeding nation of a leadership it sorely needed. The hates and the problems that grew out of the mangled fields of the Civil War went unappeased, unsolved . . . shameful specters of man's weakness which haunt us still today.

But neither Booth nor our own intransigence can destroy the noble heritage that Abraham Lincoln left to us! the abiding faith in the people, the indomitable assurance that right makes might; the lasting solace of his faith in God.

"With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle and for his widow and his orphan, to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

Richard Nixon

Probably the most intently observed man in the nation and in the world today is Richard Nixon.

Successful seeker after the most exacting job in history, inheritor of a crushing crisis in national and international affairs, the new President starts his service to his fellow men and to posterity on a note of promise. Singular, not plural.

The promising note in Mr. Nixon's inaugural address was its realistic assessment of the conditions facing the nation, a firm conviction that we as a people have it within us to correct what is wrong and to build strongly and wisely on what is good . . . a dedication to the task of coalescing our talents and our energies and our sometimes repressed good will in the hard but possible cooperative effort.

"We have found ourselves rich in goods, but ragged in spirit; reaching with magnificent precisions for the moon, but falling into raucous discord here at home. We are caught in war, wanting peace. We are torn by division, wanting unity. We see around us empty lives, wanting fulfillment."

In the spirit in which Abraham Lincoln said at Gettysburg that "It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated to the unfinished work . . ." Richard Nixon saw the answer to our dilemma: "To a crisis of the spirit, we need an answer of the spirit. To find that answer, we need only to look within ourselves."

Lyndon Johnson

Lyndon B. Johnson returned to his beloved Federates with more dignity and more affectionate good wishes than he had had, perhaps, since those days when the robes of Camelot were rent by an assassin's bullets and he rallied a benumbed nation with the calm admonition, "Let us continue."

He will never know history's final assessment of his stewardship as President. He must be haunted by the rejection that led him to the inevitable course of abdication his political career. He will be aware of the cold and critical analysis of his last efforts to commit the new administration to many of his latest Great Society programs.

He may come to understand, if he doesn't already, that the unpopularity that built around him a barrier to future service was constructed in large part from his own failure to make the people feel like partners in the nation's undertakings . . . his instinctive assumption that, as the Los Angeles Times put it, it was his prerogative "to decide what is good for us, then lead us in the desired direction even if he had to blindfold or mislead us in order to do it."

Lyndon Johnson may have misunderstood his personal role, but he worked monumentally at the tasks he felt needed doing. And in retirement he can take comfort from Abraham Lincoln's philosophic "if at the end, when I come to lay down the reins of power, I have lost every other friend on earth, I shall at least have one friend left, and that friend shall be down inside me."

The Poor Get Poorer

As government gets bigger in proportion to the growth of the population and the productive capacity of the people, the rising cost of supporting it must be spread over the backs of more and more people. The old saw about soaking the rich is an empty phrase. There aren't enough of them. The poor also pay taxes, and if inflation of the poor cost of government continue to rise, the ranks of the poor will increase. This is as certain as night following day. The wealth of the rich is like the proverbial fly speck on a barn door compared to current government spending and borrowing. Payment for multibillion dollar federal programs must be drawn mainly from the limited resources of the majority of citizens — including those in the lower income brackets.

U.S. News & World Report recently published figures showing that taxes take 34 per cent of annual family incomes under $3,000, because of rising income taxes, social security levies, state and local sales and property taxes. Tax experts, economists and other authorities are now trying to figure out a way to relieve the poor of part of their tax burden. In the meantime, taxes continue to go up as the cost of government continues to grow. Anyone who doubts this has merely to look at the jump in his social security tax that heralded the new year. There is only one way to relieve the tax burden for the poor, as for everyone else. And that is to trim back on government spending and debt.

SENSING THE NEWS

Reaction to proceedings in the naval court of inquiry investigating the loss of the Pueblo has not been altogether healthy. Danger exists that blame will be attached to the wrong parties. We live in an age of permissiveness and excuses, and the weight of fashionable opinion is against holding people to strict account for their actions. Thus it is that here has been an outcry in some quarters against any stern questioning of Commander Bucher, former commanding officer of the Pueblo.

Regardless of whether Commander Bucher was right or wrong in his conduct as commanding officer of a naval vessel, it is only proper that the Navy determine who was accountable for a ship belonging to the United States falling into enemy hands. Accountability is a fundamental concept in the Navy and other armed services. The principle is the foundation on which accurate, faithful service is rendered to the United States.

Unfortunately, the intellectual climate of our era is such that many people try to disguise or dismiss responsibility. They give psychological or sociological reasons for not pinpointing responsibility. But a nation can't live by excuses. It has to be very sure that those who are given responsibility are held accountable and answer for mistakes if they make them.

Some of the same people who were so eager a few years ago to muzzle the military are now saying that the "Navy brass" are at fault for sending the Pueblo to sea when she was inadequately armed. They are hastening to convict the military professionals and the professional concept of responsibility. They say that the Navy should emphasize compassion, not accountability. Compassion is a virtue in its proper sphere, but compassion should not be reserved for those who fail to carry out their orders. The defense of the United States cannot be based on sentimentality. What is needed in considering the loss of the Pueblo is cold-eyed realism. If any uniformed officer was at fault, whether commander or admiral, that fact should be established and made public, and appropriate reprimand should be made. But the public also has a right to expect that the inquiry will go beyond the uniformed personnel concerned. The question should be asked why old, ill-armed vessels are sent on dangerous missions.

The answer to that question must be sought by the Congress. But it is clear that the much-abused "Navy brass" have spent the last eight years asking for new ships. The vast majority of U.S. warships were built during World War II, and are now overage.

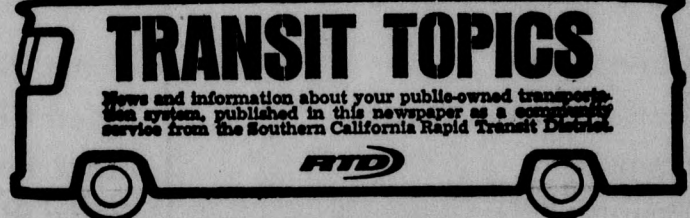

Though the "Navy brass" asked for new ships, to carry out assigned cold war missions such as electronic intelligence off the North Korean coast, they have not received them in adequate numbers. The reason is that former Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara fiercely resisted building a modern fleet.

While the Kennedy and Johnson administrations poured billions of dollars into political programs designed to harvest votes, they declined to construct the ships needed for the security of the United States.

Mr. McNamara allowed many elements in the U.S. defense establishment to run down dangerously. Ships were taken from the Atlantic Fleet and sent to the Pacific. Inventories of spare parts were seriously depleted, and replacements not ordered. Far from being the brilliant manager his publicists termed him, Mr. McNamara was a reckless managerial figure who allowed the overall defense enterprise to become unbalanced and weak in many respects.

It is a matter of historical record that Mr. McNamara opposed development of a nuclear fleet and rejected

Mr. Douglas A. Newcomb, member of the RTD board, represents the Supervisorial district of Burton W. Chase. Mr. Newcomb has been involved in public transportation for several years, having been on the MTA board, and is presently vice president of the Board of Directors of the Long Beach Transportation Co.

He believes in balanced transportation and has spent endless hours working toward that goal. Mr. Newcomb, for many years superintendent of schools, Long Beach Unified School District, has a keen insight into the need for mass transportation.

Before you stew and fuss, the next time you're caught behind a bus in traffic, think! That big, awkward looking people mover is doing you a real favor. Look at it this way . . . Every loaded bus you see during the morning or evening rush hour means 40 less cars on the street, 40 less drivers you have to worry about, or 40 less ways to bang up a fender. Sure it's big and takes up its lane and sometimes part of yours, but don't knock it, things could be worse — 40 times worse.

The good folks down at RTD have been a little distressed by the response, or better still, the lack of it, to the new lines in many areas. Take the 133 line for example. This route runs between La Puente, West Covina and Eastland, passing directly in front of the Queen of the Valley Hospital. The RTD folks think the problem is communication, not service. Not enough people know about it. Spread the word around. Tell someone about the service. Your community is a better place to live with a bus line, and your bankroll will be fatter if you use it instead of that second car.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

It often shows a fine command of language to say nothing.

- Q. Please tell me how to read the No. 60 line schedule. I am always getting on a bus that stops at El Monte and I don't want to. Mr. T.L.
- A. If you will look closely at the No. 60 line timetable I sent you, you will notice on the extreme left hand side a column of letters. These letters indicate the route or operating procedure. The code for these letters is just above the map.
- Q. I live in Baldwin Park and someone told me I did not have to go to Los Angeles to get to Long Beach. Is that true and if so what is the other way? Mrs. P. S.
- A. There are actually two other ways. You can go to El Monte station and catch the No. 38 line, or ride to Garfield and catch the No. 61 bus. I would prefer the No. 61 route.
- Q. How long does it take to go to downtown Los Angeles from Baldwin Park and what is the fare? I want to go to Sixth and Grand. Mrs. L.V.
- A. The trip takes about 50 minutes by freeway flyer and the fare is 86c one way.
- Q. We are moving to Arcadia, what bus service is available? Mr. O. M.
- A. The No. 52 line goes through Arcadia and provides service to Los Angeles, Temple City, Alhambra; also, the No. 68 line on Huntington Drives goes to Los Angeles West or Glendora East. Connections are available to Pasadena, Long Beach.
